

September 2022

Dear Mentors, Investors, and Entrepreneurship Students,

Welcome to our monthly HI HUB Incubator newsletter!

I hope you all had an excellent summer! This summer has been a busy one for me, I had the privilege to teach at the NYU Tel Aviv campus as well as an online summer course at NYU. Just recently, I returned from the AMA (American Marketing Association) 2022 Summer Academic Conference in Chicago where the talk of the town was all about AI/AR and robotics use in marketing as well as sustainability. I would encourage you all to read more about AI/VR and the metaverse.

With the start of a new school year ahead of us, we are eager to continue sharing interesting and informative articles with you on all things innovation, entrepreneurship, and startup. I am looking forward to another successful semester with our students and with all of you!

- Dr. Richie Karaburun

Is Corporate Venture Capital Right for Your Startup?

Traditionally, startups have looked to three primary sources for funding: venture capital firms (VCs), angel investors, and family offices. But in recent years, a fourth option has grown increasingly popular: corporate venture capital funds, or CVCs. Between 2010 and 2020, the number of CVCs grew more than six times to over 4,000, and these CVCs inked more than 2,000 deals worth $79 billion in the first half of 2021, surpassing all previous annual tallies. — Read more
