Spirit Week 2022

October 23. Find your purple shirt to celebrate our diversity and embrace our togetherness as a community of engaged and culturally diverse learners. Spirit Week is a time where we look to the future and see how we can do better.

During this week, we celebrate concepts, and the idea that each of us is special, unique, and has a unique story to tell. This is the core of our mission and values as a university, and it is why we value diversity and inclusion.

We are thrilled to invite you to the SPS Undergraduate and Graduate Student Council’s Bootcamp, which will be held on Saturday, October 15, from 9:00-12:00 at the NYU Student Union. This bootcamp will be an opportunity to learn more about the student council and its role in representing the voices of NYU SPS students.

Also, don’t miss the NYU Schack Associate Dean for Real Estate, Abby Jo Sigal, who will lead an insightful lecture on the future of real estate on Monday, October 17, from 6:00-7:30 p.m. at the Astor Ballroom at the New York Marriott at Times Square.

Follow the Dean!

Warmly,
