

Virtual Employer Engagement Guide

Build Talent Pipelines from Anywhere in the World

Participate in Career Programs

Serve as a speaker or participant to help students refine essential skills and deepen understanding of sector trends for career success.

Develop a Custom Program

Develop a customized virtual career program and build a pipeline of talent, while enhancing students' co-curricular experience.

Expand Your Recruitment Strategy

Connect with talent seeking opportunities by participating in virtual meetups, career fairs, and similar recruitment events.

Post Employment & Internship Opportunities

Share internship and employment opportunities available to NYU students and alumni on NYU CareerNet.

Why Partner?

Build talent pipelines without traveling, saving time and money

Develop your organization's brand awareness with high-impact exposure

Be seen as a thought-leader, offering industry-specific advice to talent

SPS Students at a Glance

Professionally oriented

Applied professional experiential degree programs.

Taught by industry

Faculty members are expert practitioners.

Globally local

International experiences that build cross-cultural competencies.

Lifelong learners

Early talent, experienced professionals and career changers.

Successful alumni

98% of undergraduate and 96% of graduate students employed within 6 months of graduation.

Connect with Wasserman Center at SPS

We look forward to conversations with you via phone, email, or messaging platforms such as WhatsApp and Skype at a time that is convenient for you.

NYU Wasserman Center for Career Development | School of Professional Studies

7 East 12th Street, 5th floor
New York, NY 10003

E-mail: sps.wasserman@nyu.edu

Phone: 212-998-7205

