

Dean's Remarks • September 18, 2023

Dear SPS Community,

I hope this message finds you well and that you continue to discover new and interesting facets of the NYU School of Professional Studies.

One of the most exciting times this September is the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) week, which is set to take place here in New York City this week, from September 18th to September 26th, coinciding with Climate Week. The UNGA and Climate Week are significant global events that bring together leaders and diplomats from all over the world to discuss critical global issues, foster diplomatic relations, and address pressing challenges facing our planet.

CGA's Carolyn Kissane and Amy Myers Jaffe, the Tisch Center's Chris Gaffney, the Schack Institute's Marc Norman, and I will be participating in and waving the NYU SPS banner at the 2023 UNGA and Climate Week-related events, both on campus and across the city.

Remember to check out the NYU SPS social media channels for highlights from the events.

Warmly,

Angie

Follow the Dean!

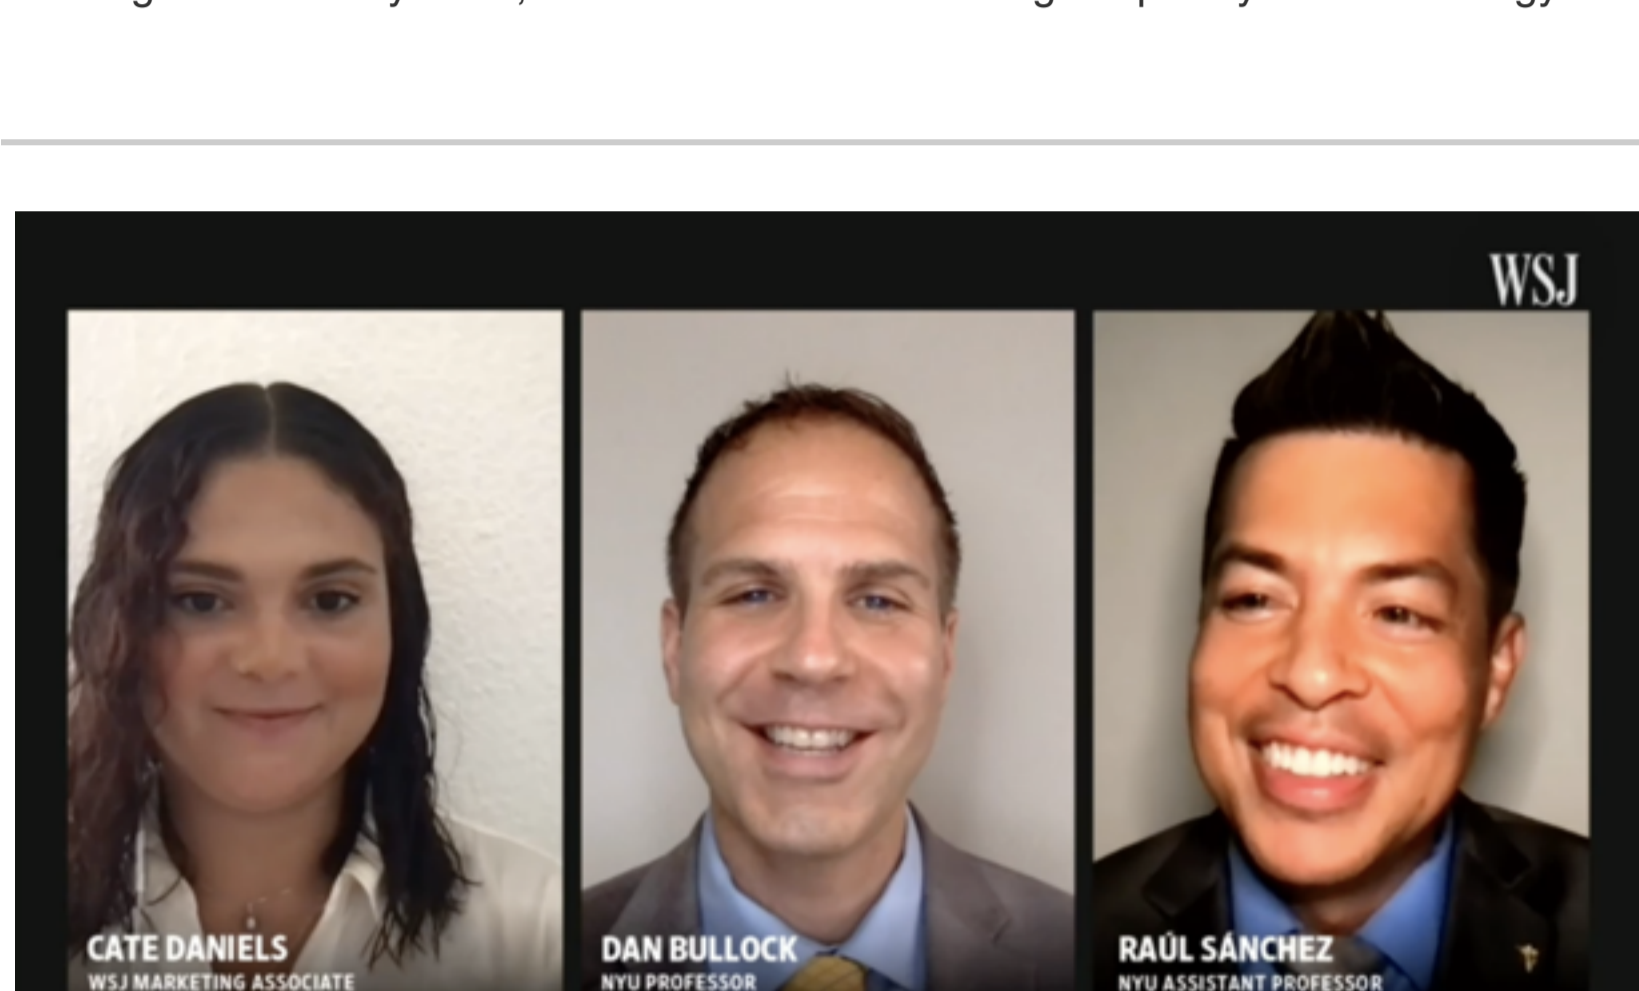

NYU SPS HIGHLIGHTS

In Case You Missed it...

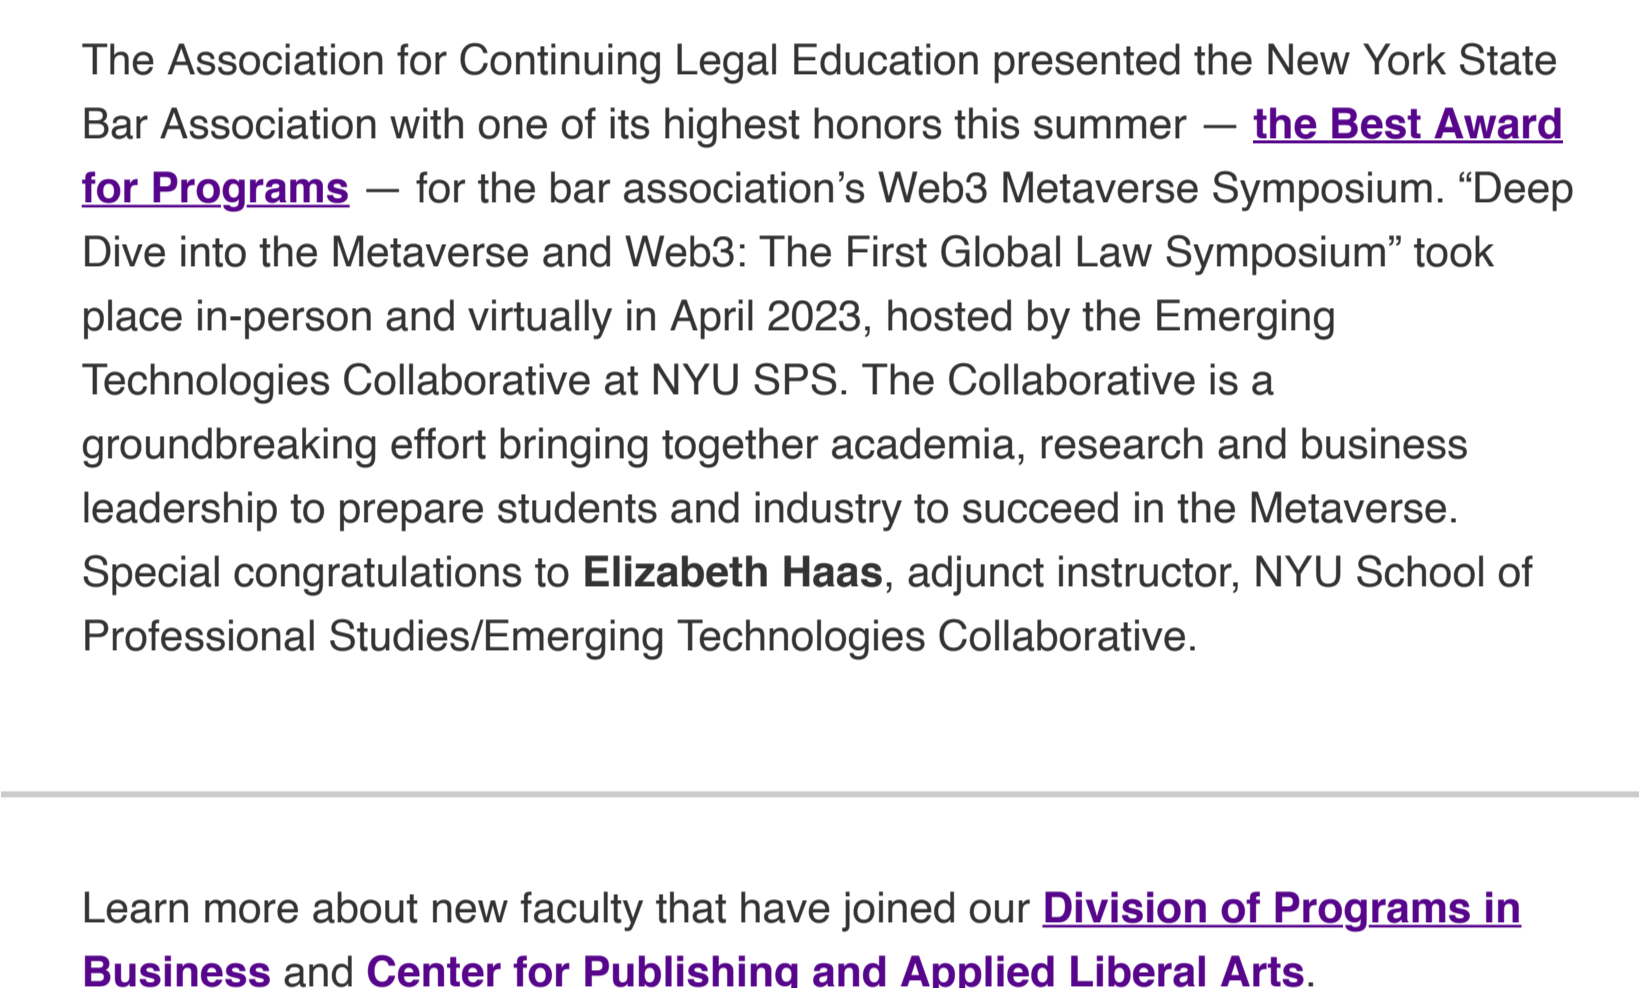

Congratulations to the NYU SPS Student Chapter of the National Society for Human Resource Management for winning the Outstanding Chapter Award (the highest award) for the second year in a row! A special congratulations to the 2022-2023 SPS SHRM Board for their efforts in winning this award. The NYU SPS SHRM Chapter continues to be recognized for its excellence consecutively for over 6 years!

Congratulations to Anna Tavis, academic director of the NYU SPS Human Capital Management Department within the Division of Programs in Business, who was recently named one of the 2023 Top 100 HR Tech Influencers by Human Resource Executive.

CGA associate dean Carolyn Kissane was featured on CBS News to discuss how Saudi Arabia and Russia have agreed to extend their voluntary oil production cuts through the end of 2023 and how higher oil prices could also impact interest rates in the US.

Congratulations to Tisch Center of Hospitality professor Richie Karaburun, who was invited to be on a panel at the next Consumer Electronic Show in Las Vegas in January 2024, where he will be discussing hospitality and technology.

Division of Applied Undergraduate Studies professor Raúl H. Sánchez and Division of Programs in Business adjunct instructor Dan Bullock spoke on an expert panel at The Wall Street Journal Instructor Conference featuring a lineup of other prominent business professors, journalists, and key experts. In their session "The Power of Persuasive Writing with WSJ," they discussed persuasive framing methods, narratological techniques, and intercultural strategies, alongside key tips for teaching impactful communication to diverse international student populations.

The Association for Continuing Legal Education presented the New York State Bar Association with one of its highest honors this summer — the Best Award for Programs — for the bar association's Web3 Metaverse Symposium. "Deep Dive into the Metaverse and Web3: The First Global Law Symposium" took place in-person and virtually in April 2023, hosted by the Emerging Technologies Collaborative at NYU SPS. The Collaborative is a groundbreaking effort bringing together academia, research and business leadership to prepare students and industry to succeed in the Metaverse. Special congratulations to Elizabeth Haas, adjunct instructor, NYU School of Professional Studies/Emerging Technologies Collaborative.

Learn more about new faculty that have joined our Division of Programs in Business and Center for Publishing and Applied Liberal Arts.

Congratulations to Tisch Sport professor David Hollander, who proposed the idea for World Basketball Day in his new book, How Basketball Can Save the World. A recent UN resolution (co-sponsored by more than 70 countries) has been adopted and declares December 21—the day James Naismith introduced the game—to now be known as World Basketball Day!

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS

NYU Reads A Conversation with

Clint Smith
New York Times Bestselling Author of
How the Word is Passed (2021),
the NYU Reads selection for 2023–2024

Monday, September 18
6:30 p.m. ET

Join NYU Reads for a special event featuring Clint Smith, author of the 2023–2024 NYU Reads selection, How the Word is Passed: A Reckoning with the History of Slavery Across America. The NYU Reads is an annual program that brings the NYU community together around a common reading.

Monday, September 18
6:30 PM - 7:30 PM
NYU Skirball, 566 LaGuardia Place

Climate change is the defining crisis of our time. Yet, change is not happening at the speed and scale required to avert the worst possible impacts on both lives and livelihoods. From business and government to consumers, we all have our part to play in ensuring tourism destinations and the communities and resources they support thrive for generations.

Join the NYU SPS Tisch Center for Hospitality and Tourism; the NYU SPS Energy, Climate Justice, and Sustainability Lab; and the Sustainable Tourism Global Center for a panel of world leaders across government, industry, and society to discuss and debate the future of sustainable tourism.

Tuesday, September 19
6:00 PM - 7:30 PM
NYU Kimmel Center,
60 Washington Square South
Room: 8th Floor Shorin Room

The Sixth National Symposium of Women In Real Estate will convene women serving in senior leadership roles at the industry's most prominent firms for a wide-ranging discussion of the real estate market outlook and the forces shaping policy investment, financing, development, and technology. This national event also serves as a critical mentorship platform for women executives and the next generation of real estate industry leaders.

Thursday, September 21
9:00 AM - 5:00 PM
New York Hilton Midtown
1335 6th Avenue

SPS STUDENT DISCOUNT
$115
Use Discount Code
WiRE_Student_2023 at checkout

Come join us at the NYU SPS Community Picnic for a fun-filled afternoon outdoors with the SPS community. Take in the views, soak up some sun, mingle with friends, and make new ones. Bring your blankets and enjoy picnic fare, snacks, and beverages. Food for purchase will also be available at the Ottomanelli Food Stand and at local food trucks nearby.

Sunday, September 24
12:00 PM - 3:00 PM
Hunter's Point Park, Long Island City, Queens
Center Blvd. between 50th Avenue and 2nd Street

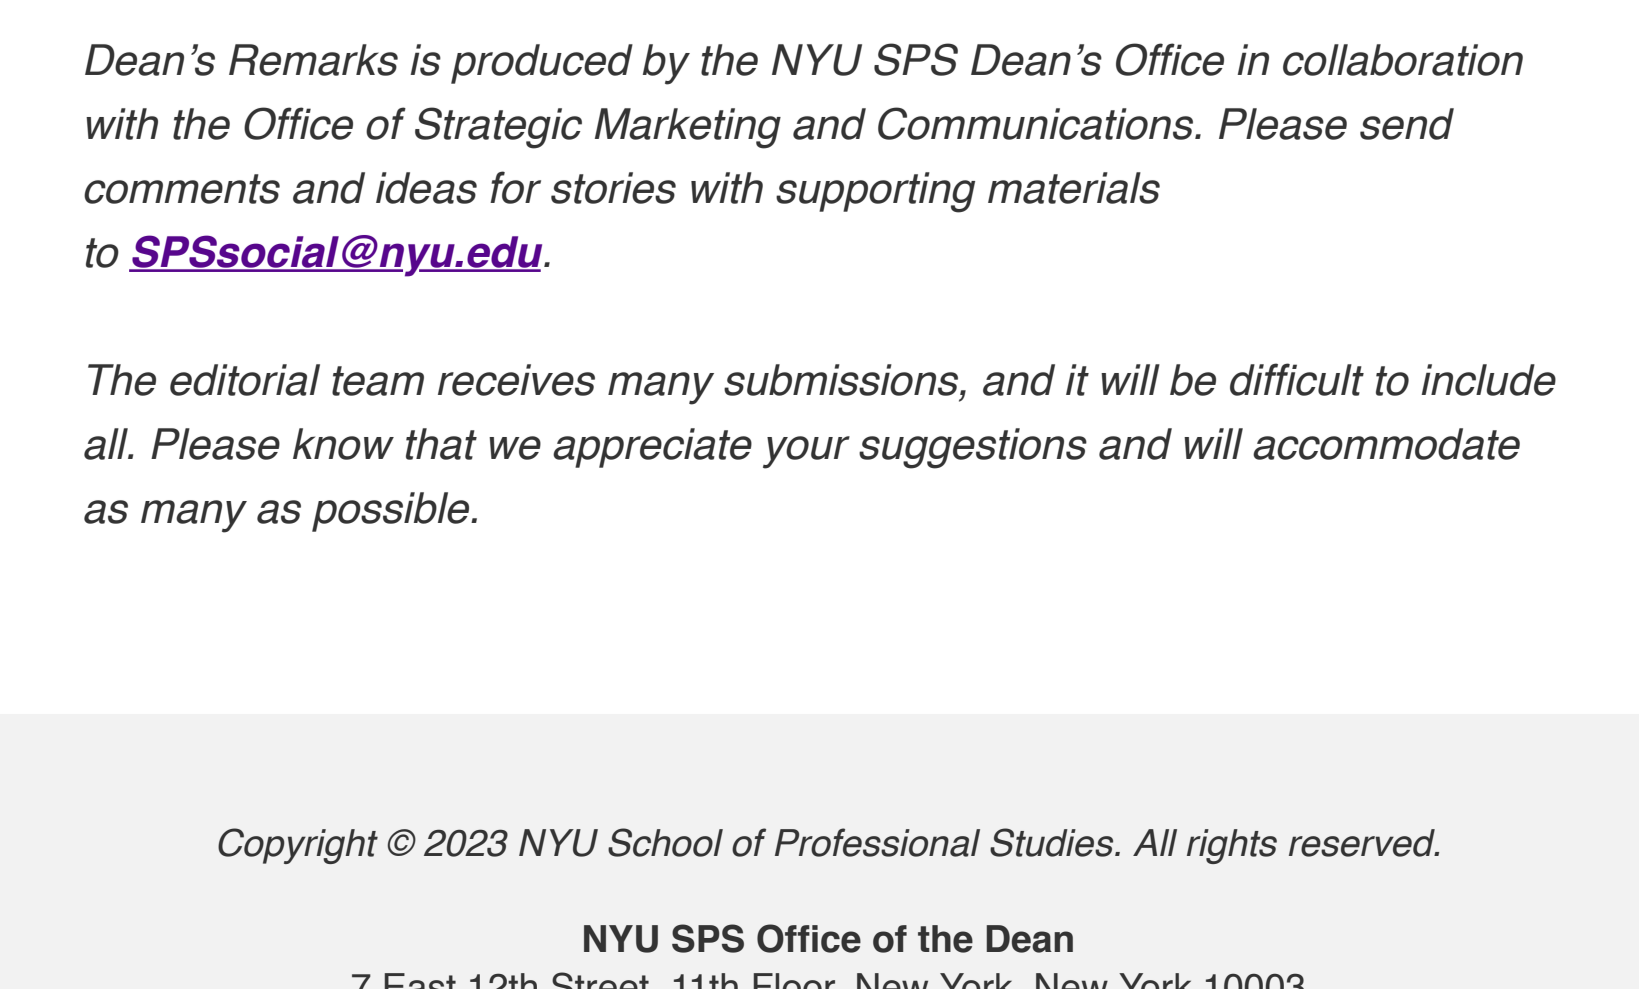

OPPORTUNITIES TO ENGAGE

Are you following NYU SPS on social media? Find us at @NYUSPS on Instagram, TikTok, and Twitter.

NYU SPS Replay Podcast:

Presenting to the world the stories of the community here at the NYU School of Professional Studies. Join us every week for new inspirations and exciting journeys through stories from our faculty, administration, alumni, and students. #WeAreSPS

The NYU SPS Replay Podcast is produced by the students of the NYU SPS Undergraduate and Graduate Student Council, with the support of the NYU SPS Office of Student Life. You can listen on Apple Podcasts and Spotify.

Have you read our NYU Emerging Technologies blog? Check out the newest entries today.

Vision 2025

VISION 2025 is our roadmap for how we will educate the workforce of today and tomorrow. Undergirded by a commitment to innovation, inclusion, diversity, belonging, equity, and access, VISION 2025 outlines our dynamic approach to shaping the future of applied professional education and lifelong learning.

Visit Vision 2025

Dean's Remarks is produced by the NYU SPS Dean's Office in collaboration with the Office of Strategic Marketing and Communications. Please send comments and ideas for stories with supporting materials to SPSsocial@nyu.edu.

The editorial team receives many submissions, and it will be difficult to include all. Please know that we appreciate your suggestions and will accommodate as many as possible.